

Independence Seaport Museum

The purpose of the J. Welles Henderson Archives & Library is to acquire, organize, preserve, conserve, and promote access to its collections of archival records, rare books, printed materials and non-textual materials to researchers, students, professionals and the general public.

The Archives & Library supports the museum's mission statement of connecting the public to the past, present and future of the Philadelphia region's waterways, rivers and bays.

SAA Museum Archives Section Working Group Example